CLUB MEMBERS AT "AGGIE" COLLENE

110 Junior Club Boys and Girls Take Part in Contests Held in Madison.

Madison — One hundred and ten members of Junior boys and girls clubs attended the annual meet course for club members and leaders at the Wisconsin College of Agriculture here last week.

The course included instruction in the various phases of agriculture, educational trips in the afternoon, and recreational amusements in the evening.

Prize winners in the contests for the boys were: Charles Easton, Dane county, won the livestock judging contest; Harry S. Schuman, Washington county, placed second; and Vernon J. Orth, Dane county, took third.

Officers elected for next year's short course are: Norma Horn, Milwaukee county, president; Robert Lee, Waubesa county, vice-president; George Price, Kenosha county, secretary; and Marie Elmann, Lincoln county, and Horace Fowler, Kenosha county, treasurer.

Miss Horn is captain of the 1923 champion canning club of the state. Robert Lee is an honor club member, and George Price has been poultry champion for the past two years and was an honor pig club member last year.

The officers will assist the state club leaders in making the plans for next year's meeting. The goal for the 1924 short course is 200 members present. This will be about three delegates from each of Wisconsin's 71 counties.

Club leaders for this year were: J. A. Chiles, Rock county, was chairman of the committee which drew up the recommendations. Other members were: H. A. Bruce, Rock county; L. A. Whelan, Rock county; A. Morawitz, Milwaukee; and E. E. Emmertson, Racine.

SUMMER MEETINGS FOR POULTRY MEN SET FOR JULY 25

The date for the summer meeting of the Wisconsin State Poultry Breeders' association at Madison have been set for July 25 and 26. Meeting will be called by President H. H. Schwartz at 9 a. m. Friday, July 26.

All meetings will be held at the university poultry building and a large number of attendees are expected because of the major importance of the meeting.

The out-of-state speakers expected include Prof. L. H. Schwartz, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.; Prof. H. H. Kempner, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.; Prof. J. H. Martin, University of Kentucky, Lexington, Ky.; and Prof. Winton, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

Special emphasis will be given to white diarrhea, and Dr. B. A. Beach of the veterinary department will demonstrate how the white diarrhea blood test is made and explain some experiments now in progress with the disease.

17 UNACCOUNTED FOR IN LORAIN; 72 KNOWN DEAD

(Continued from Page 1) chals believe are a number of bodies was stopped at a creek last night because of the danger that an adjoining four-story brick wall might fall.

Big In Debris. Efforts were concentrated in digging through the jumble of the theater, where three floors from an apartment above dropped. The body of a woman was taken from there Sunday morning and it is thought a young girl, who had been sitting there and who is missing, is still in the debris.

Several squads of national guardsmen worked all night but had not found anyone. Searching the morning and continuing through the day the bodies of approximately 40 of the storm victims were buried. Because, he said, the town had suffered enough, Mayor George Toffman forbade further burials.

Effects of thousands of wreckers and relief workers with hundreds of trucks and wagons had not begun to scratch the surface as far as removing the millions of tons of wreckage is concerned.

600 Soldiers on Duty. Fifteen hundred Ohio national guardsmen are in possession of the city. The detachment of Cleveland policemen which has been here since Saturday night returned home last night.

Practically all the work of policing the city, the search for more dead and most everything else except the clerical work in the city hall has been taken over by the guardsmen.

Perhaps the majority of 7,000 homeless have been taken care of, but the desolation is spread over a wide area and no definite check can be made.

COUNTY COMMITTEE FOR THE NATIONAL

Series of County Booster Meetings to be Held in Leading Counties.

Madison — Plans to put Wisconsin on the map of the National Dairy Committee were made at a recent meeting of the Wisconsin National Dairy show committee in the state capital with John B. Jones, Jr., as chairman.

It was decided to have county committees to work with the state committee in creating interest among dairy farmers in the big event September 27-October 4.

Membership in the county committee is to include a member of the state committee as chairman; one representative from each breed association; one from the county board of agriculture; one from each chamber of commerce or commercial club; one from each organized farmer group, such as Farm Bureau and Equity; and from country association.

The recommendations for the work of such committees are that they hold meetings at which plans for the National Dairy show will be discussed, form local committees to arrange groups to attend the show, promote calf club work for exhibitors at the show, promote county fairer's amateur judging teams to compete at the National Dairy show, stir up interest in exhibits, especially county testing association exhibits and other dairy exhibits, and arrange special county exhibits for out-of-state visitors who will visit certain specified days.

Speakers will be furnished by the state committee for the major meetings, and the local committees will secure local speakers and assistance for local events.

J. A. Chiles, Rock county, was chairman of the committee which drew up the recommendations. Other members were: H. A. Bruce, Rock county; L. A. Whelan, Rock county; A. Morawitz, Milwaukee; and E. E. Emmertson, Racine.

CROP REPORT OF STATE IS ISSUED

All Wisconsin Major Crops Are Late Due to Backward Season.

(By Associated Press.) Madison — All major crops in Wisconsin are late due to backward weather conditions, according to the July 1 agricultural summary announced today by Paul C. Nyhus, state-federal cooperative crop reporting statistician.

Corn, particularly, is small and late, the report declares. Timothy and mixed hay have greatly improved during the past month, and alfalfa has made an excellent first growth, it is stated. The report in part follows:

"Crops are late throughout the state, corn being particularly small. Farmers who are fortunate enough to have new seedlings of clover that did not dry out last summer, are practically assured of a good crop of clover hay. Timothy and mixed hay have greatly improved. Alfalfa has made an excellent first growth and plans for larger acreages are expressed in all sections. Small grain in southern Wisconsin has favorable prospects but are late in the northern part of the state.

"When clover dropped to 15.5 cents two months ago, there were many who expected lower prices for the June flow of milk. But prices permitted of the same milking. The common occurrence of a seasonal drop in prices has not occurred, however, but instead, cheese prices went to higher levels and are holding quite firm at this time—around 17.5 cents. But prices have recovered to almost most the same level as last year.

"Although the returns from milk are less than a year ago, particularly for milk made into cheese, there is a relieved and more confident feeling in the dairy outlook in view of what was feared two months ago. Milk flow up to this time seems to be less than a year ago due to late pastures and smaller feed rations last spring.

"Colonization companies report slight movement of settlers on cut-over lands of the better soils in Northern Wisconsin, indicating a shift of farmers from marginal lands to soils that offer good yields when cleared and broken up."

FRUIT GROWERS TO MEET IN GAYS MILLS

The annual summer convention of the Wisconsin Horticultural society will be held at Gays Mills Aug. 29 and 30.

Gays Mills is adjacent to the famous Kickapoo orchards of 675 acres, and a large part of this acreage is now in full bearing. The opening day will be devoted to papers on fruit and flower growing; the second day to a tour of the orchards and an extended drive in Crawford county.

RUSH INSPECTIONS OF ALL APIARIES

Progress is being made in the county-wide inspection of apiaries and eradication of foul brood. Walter Ross, Janesville, of the Rock County Beekeepers' association, and A. C. Monette, Madison, state bee inspector, have completed the work in Janesville, Harmony and Fulton townships.

All colonies of bees are inspected.

STATE IS FIRST IN T. B. WORK

Heads List in Tuberculosis Eradication With Iowa Second.

Madison — Wisconsin has attained another honor in the dairy world. Statistics compiled by the U. S. department of agriculture here by state officials show that the Badger state stands first among states in the nation in tuberculosis eradication work among cattle. The report shows that 24,000 head of cattle in Wisconsin have qualified for the accredited list.

Iowa ranks second with 25,815 cattle on the accredited list, the summary shows. Wisconsin has 219,210 cattle on the waiting list for tuberculosis inspection, which is the largest number in any state. Ohio is second with 740,812.

Of the total number of cattle under inspection, Badger dairy herds rank second with 232,444 head. It is said in this list Iowa leads all states with 228,609 cattle, and New York pushes Wisconsin for second place with a total of 217,221 head.

Wisconsin is given second place in the total number of cattle once tested free. There are 327,553 of this class of cattle in the state. Missouri has the largest number of cattle in this class of any state, 422,843.

During the month of May Iowa had 72,210 cattle tested with tuberculosis, which gives the state first place in the nation. Minnesota was next with 67,230 head; Illinois third with 40,074, and Wisconsin fourth with 37,092 cattle, the report indicates.

In the 43 states, 126,257 cattle in the 1923 herds were tuberculin tested earlier May. A total of 4,600,584 cattle in the United States qualify as once tested free, 237,723 are accredited, and 7,141,919 are under supervision.

Dr. J. S. Hooley is the inspector in charge of the tuberculosis eradication work in Wisconsin.

8 ALIENISTS ON LEOPOLD, LOEB CASE

(By Associated Press.) Chicago — Arrival here today of William A. White of Washington, D. C., authority on mental diseases, brings the number of alienists and experts to eight retained by the defense for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaire sons, confessed kidnapers-slayers of the school boy, Robert Franks.

Examination of the youths in the county jail will continue for several weeks, according to Dr. James Whitely Hall, chief alienist for the defense, who has announced the foundation for an insanity defense has been completed.

"We hope to convince a jury that these boys thought their act was justifiable," Dr. Hall stated. "That would stamp them as insane and there would not have to be a logical motive."

JURY FREES FOUR OF BLASTING FISH

Janesville Youths, Taken at Turtle Creek, Are Acquitted.

Edward Shikunajski, Albert Metzger, William Doyle and Fred Brand, Janesville youths, charged with using explosives in Turtle Creek early in May, were found not guilty by a mixed jury of 12 in municipal court Monday afternoon. The jury deliberated only 10 minutes.

The four boys were accused by the state of having used dynamite for fishing purposes in the waters of Turtle Creek on May 13.

The state's principal witnesses, Arvin Brown, William Lindell and Walter Grams, testified that they had seen the youths in company with Harry Fuchs, employee of the Chevrolet driveway company, who

A welter of worlds, whirling through bitter, acrid conflict—Humanity in the bof, tossed about in mad confusion by Mars—cataclysmic emotions, swirled aloft like old papers from a city street—the Threnody of Death—raw, untrained troops of America smashing irresistibly on to victory—the mighty thunder of guns—the slime and mud of foreign trenches—blood trickling down the pale cheek of a Red Cross nurse—and over it all, like the brooding spirit of some all-enveloping angel, Mother-love, exalted, triumphant; these are some of the pictures which whir before the projection lens.

The Oil Indictments
 Harlan Fiske Stone is not much of a politician nor is he much of an advertiser of himself or his office as attorney general of the United States.
 Since he succeeded Mr. Daugherty he has had much to do. Taking up the work of the oil cases and the investigation of the special counsel appointed by President Coolidge to make an examination of the evidence, he has caused this evidence to be presented to the Federal grand jury at Washington. Indictments have followed as told in the Gazette Monday. Not only has Albert Fall been indicted, but so have Edward F.
 Doheny, his son, and Harry F. Sinclair.

These oil cases have been made a prominent part of the democratic platform and upon them this fall. Most of Senator Harrison's speech was devoted to this phase of politics. Senator Walsh also was keynoting to that effect. In their speeches they called attention to the fact that no indictments had been brought. Both might have had the information, current in Washington, that the attorney general was working on these cases, that the special counsel was investigating the evidence secured by Senator Walsh's committee, and that there was no possible way in which the four men who have been indicted, could escape.

Justice and court trials should not be political.
 The trial of Doheny and Sinclair, of Fall and young Doheny, should have nothing to do with the election or the candidacy of anybody not mixed up with the oil cases themselves. It may have something to do with the nomination of McAdoo as it likely will, he having never been able to escape the stigma of a heavy retainer from Mr.
 Doheny. The attacks on Mr. McAdoo have come most heavily and bitterly from the party to which he belongs. His answer must be largely to demonstrate, unless nominated for the presidency, when his explanation must be to the whole nation.

We have a fearless and honest attorney general, and we may look for every action to be measured not by political phrase-making or expediency, but in seeing that justice is not dragged in the streets, and he has the support of a fearless president.

In reference to Mr. McAdoo, Mr. Doheny is quoted as saying:
 "I am leaving the privilege of contributing to Mr. McAdoo's campaign to those who believe in the efforts of a lawyer who deserves his client when he is under attack, after having received substantial retainers for legal service."
 And now that he is under indictment, it might be well to find out whether Mr. McAdoo, after having suddenly achieved conscientious compunc-tions against accepting money from Mr. Doheny, but not until an investigation had disclosed this fact, has ever returned any of that money to Mr.
 Doheny, or did not his conscience take him that far up on the high moral plane?

One notices that the rabble-rousing speeches were most popular.

June and Then July.
 Here we are in July, the month of heat, drought, lemons, bugs, flies, sunstroke, mosquitoes, vacations, buying, picnics, tobacco worms, muskies and pike, auto trips, ants, palm beach suits, all the inconveniences of the summer cottage, and enough other things, good, bad and indifferent, to fill a mail order catalogue.

That is the July of history, the one we used to meet once a year and remain with for thirty one days. But in 1924 we feel more like reciting "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin" than singing the "Good Old Summer Time." It really does seem that Mr. Coolidge has been a failure since congress adjourned and that he has not by this time seen to it that the weather bureau was reorganized. One hardly understands why the democrats left out the weather bureau and its need of rehabilitation, from their platform.

Not a single author who has ever contributed to the million or more books we have piled up in this world, in which this month, named after Julius Caesar, was mentioned, has failed to call attention to the waves of heat rising from a parched earth, with the streams dried up to narrow rivulets and all things burned to a shrivel by the sun and drought. We shall take pleasure in chronicling some of these events in the next few weeks if they occur. The crop report for the state reflects the backwardness of the season and the consequent loss to farm and farmer. Seasons are opportunity. Failing, they make for losses. July is not as promising as it should be following the cold and almost universally wet June. But we hear from Kansas where the wheat harvest is on that a great crop is being put in the granaries. That is some help.

There is yet time to win back the losses. Nature usually achieves an average before the season is over and the while hope is down at the heels and the mind of the farmer has been run ragged flailing out what will happen. So with only one day of July gone we may still be possessed with patience.

Pat Harrison says that the tariff laws of the republicans have kept the Germans poor because they could not sell their goods here. It may be remarked for the benefit of Pat, that one of the chief reasons for the tariff was to do just that thing—keep out foreign made goods and give the industries and labor of America a chance against the low mark wages and cheap products of Europe.

Henry Allen Cooper, having read himself out of the republican party, will find a congenial place in the democratic ranks with a plank in the platform for immediate Philippine independence.
 Mr. Cooper being author of a bill which fits the democratic position exactly.

Maybe the democrats cheered Wilson's name because he vetoed the Volstead act.

CITIZENS AND JURY DUTY

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington.—The jury in a criminal case recently rendered a verdict of acquittal which the judge denounced as the most foolish verdict of which he had ever heard. Another eminent jurist complains that there is at the present time an apparent unwillingness on the part of jurors to convict, especially to return verdicts calling for the death penalty, and says that the only possible explanation for this is that it is a reaction in the jury box of the general disregard for law that seems to pervade the country.

In one criminal case it was found necessary to summon 650 takersmen, before a jury of 12 could be secured to try the defendant. In a civil case involving the rights of a railroad 1,200 tal-kersmen were summoned.

These incidents and facts are cited as evidence that something is wrong, not with our jury system, but with the way the system functions under present day conditions. Men who are studying the problem say that the trouble lies with Mr.
 Average Citizen.

Most Americans who would fight for their right to a trial by jury, which is guaranteed them by the Federal Constitution, are exceedingly reluctant to do their duty when someone else involves that right and they are summoned to jury duty. This aversion to serving on a jury is sometimes due to a dislike of assuming the responsibility for settling questions affecting the liberty or property rights of others. More often it is due to the feeling that the average man has that he can not afford to sacrifice the time from his business or professional work that jury service entails.

But whatever the excuse, jury dodging has grown to serious proportions, especially in the larger cities.

The citizen who evades military duty when his country calls for fighting men is denounced as a slacker and held in general contempt. Citizens who can and do not vote at primaries and elections are being subjected to criticism almost as harsh for their failure to discharge the fundamental obligation of citizenship, and now those who evade jury duty are coming in for their share of opprobrium.

Commissioner of Jurors, Frederick O'Ryne, of New York, is authority for the statement that in the five counties comprising that city 58,000 men served on the various juries other than federal juries. An equal number were excused from jury duty for legitimate reasons, and more than 100,000 were summoned and examined before the 58,000 who served were selected. The commissioner says that citizens of intelligence and education know far more about how to sidestep jury duty than they do about performing it, or about their obligation to perform it.

His experience has led him to suggest the advisability of having classes in jury duty in all colleges and universities and the making of a special drive to impress upon the average citizen his responsibility for upholding the jury system.

Citizens shrink from jury duty, he says, largely because many of them are not made to realize that it is an honor and obligation of citizenship.

"That is why I should like to see college students instructed in the subject of jury duty," says Commissioner O'Ryne. "Many are called who do not know what is required of them. Students should be taught, and there are many books which they should be made to realize that the constitution of the United States provides for the jury system and that it is with us to stay. The course should not be one of occasional lectures but of constant lectures and recitations, as in any other college course. The student would then emerge from college with a sense of citizenship that is not felt by men who fail to appreciate the necessity in the public interest of their service in the jury box."

There are certain classes of citizens who are exempt from jury duty in most states, including clergymen, physicians, dentists, pharmacists, veterinarians, optometrists, attorneys, teachers, editors, reporters, federal, state, county and city officials, foreign consuls, captains, engineers and pilots of vessels, superintendents, engineers and conductors on railroads, telegraph operators for press, associations and railroads, election inspectors and clerks, and all persons who are physically incapacitated for jury service.

Excuses that are offered in the effort to avoid jury duty are often of the flimsiest character.
 Some men seem to think that the mere fact that they do not want to serve is sufficient reason for their being excused, while pressure of business, sickness in the family and sudden calls out of town are always being heard by the court.

Most men who have been arrested for violations of the law are exceedingly anxious to conceal that fact, but when they think that it may help them escape jury service they have been known to relate their delinquencies eagerly if not proudly. And in this day and age of the ubiquitous automobile and the equally ubiquitous traffic cop it is the rare individual who has not been arrested at least once. However, arrests for speeding and similar violations of traffic regulations do not suffice to keep a man out of the jury box.

The jury is the characteristic feature of English or common law, and distinguishes it from the systems of continental Europe derived from the law of the Roman Empire. Originally juries were composed of all those persons who had knowledge of the subject matter. They were summoned into court to state upon their solemn oath what the common opinion of the neighborhood was upon the facts which formed the basis of the criminal charge to be tried, or the basis of the right to possession or enjoyment of land or other property which was at issue, such being the typical cases of early days.

It soon became a matter of general acceptance that the testimony or opinions of twelve substantial men would be sufficient to establish the facts in a given case and to insure justice and fair dealing, hence the idea of the jury of twelve "good men and true."

As the judicial system grew, however, the courts came to have fixed boundaries territorial jurisdiction, litigation grew more extensive, and it was soon found that the attendance of twelve persons acquainted with the facts of each case to be tried would be unduly burdensome, if not impossible in many instances.

Out of this situation grew the plan of submitting legal controversies to the decision of an impartial jury sworn to determine the facts after all the testimony had been presented by witnesses who are sworn to tell "the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth."

In the early days men who served on juries prized themselves as the honored members of the community and upon the fact that they were receiving a real public service. Unhappily those days are passed and today litigants are largely at the mercy of professional jurymen, of which every community has its quota, and of citizens impressed into jury duty against their will and who therefore are apt to be in an unjustified indignant frame of mind.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

UNINSTRUCTED
 "I'm going to send you down to earth."
 Said God to me one day.
 "You giving you what you call 'blith'— Tonight you'll start away;
 I want you there to live with men Until I call you back again."

I trembled as I heard him speak,
 Yet knew that I must go;
 I felt his hand upon my cheek,
 And wished that I might know
 Just what an earth would be my task, And timidly I dared to ask.

"Tell me before I start away
 What Thou would have me do;
 What message would Thou have me say,
 When shall my work be through?
 Thou I may serve, on the earth,
 Tell me the purpose of my birth."

God smiled at me and softly said:
 "Oh, you shall find your task.
 I want you free life's paths to tread,
 So do not hurry—
 Remember, if your best you do,
 That I shall ask no more of you."

How often as my work I do,
 So commonplace and grim,
 I sit and sigh and think I knew
 If I am pleasing Him.
 I wonder if, with every test,
 I've truly tried to do my best.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, JULY 2, 1924.

This should be a fairly favorable day for most human activities, according to the horoscope.
 The sun, moon and planets are all in beneficent aspect, while Mars is mildly adverse.
 The new moon of this date foreshadows more favorable conditions for the commercial and business and a general trend of the industrial thermometer.

Although business should benefit at this time there is a sign not reassuring where financial conditions are concerned. Much fraud and swindling are indicated.
 Industry will continue to have heavy business and to record unusual numbers of travelers, but Mars in an aspect that apparently warns of the likelihood of accidents.

Disasters to pleasure parties and to persons who frequent places of amusement are strongly foreshadowed.
 Again keen interest in foreign investments will be manifested and international relations probably will be discussed with intense feeling.
 There is an especially favorable sign for the industry and increase of political power for workers is prophesied.

Neptune and Uranus today are in aspects reading forecasting much political propaganda that will influence the masses against traditional policies of government.
 Those who seek work today probably will be successful but they may be disappointed in the wages obtainable.

A member of the cabinet is in danger of personal injury. If the stars are read aright.
 Legal suits against public servants of various ranks will be numerous during the autumn, it is foretold.

The partial eclipse of the sun on the last day of the month will indicate a scarcity of wheat and to warn of the sudden death of a prince.
 Persons whose birthdate it is may expect a very successful year. Domestic affairs should be satisfactory. If affairs are favorable, the children born on this day are likely to win general respect all through life. These subjects of Cancer may be restless and fond of change, but able to win success in whatever careers they choose.

The grocer wields a wicked broom,
 There's dust upon the cheese;
 He sends his patrons to their doom—
 And, Oh, you doctor, flee!

Prevention: That which we tramp over when looking for cures.

Another good way to spread "colds" and other diseases, is to dry sweep during business hours.

HISTORY OF TODAY

TODAY'S EVENTS.

This is the fifth anniversary of the abduction of Charles Ross in Philadelphia. The most col-orated kidnapping case in history.
 Canadians today celebrate Dominion day, a national holiday commemorating the formation of the dominion of Canada by the British North America Act.

The annual frontier celebration and carnival of western sports at Prescott, Ariz., is opened today and continued through the remainder of the week.
 A memorial to the Newfoundland soldiers who fell in the Great War, is to be unveiled in St.
 John's today. Earl Haig, the famous British military commander.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

July 1, 1884.—The first annual report of the board of directors of the public library was submitted to the common council last night.—A result of the election of the election class of M. R. J.
 B. Day in the C. A. R. hall last night.—The north half of the Milwaukee street bridge, which is in poor condition, will be replanted.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

July 1894.—John Gooder will be the leader at the weekly Sunday afternoon meeting at Y. M. C. A. at 3 p. m. tomorrow.—Thirty couples were present at the formal opening of the Park hotel last night.—The board of education met this morning to select a plan for the new high school building.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

July 1, 1904.—J. Findlay Williams was appointed city mail carrier today.—A reception was given Josiah Wright at the Congregational church last night, in honor of his 50th anniversary as a member.—Annual "Old Settlers' day" will be held at Postville July 8. Alexander Wiggins will be marshal of the day.

TEN YEARS AGO

July 1, 1914.—Forty saloon keepers and three for brewers were granted a special meeting of the city council today.—The tobacco shed on the farm of William Henkey, north of town, was destroyed by fire this morning. The farm is occupied by William Sommerfeldt, who lost a large amount of farm machinery.

BLESS THE LORD.

O my soul, and forget not all his benedicts, who redeemed thy life from destruction; who crowneth thee with loving kindness and tender mercies.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
 Noted Physician and Author.

WHY AND WHEN TO COUGH

It is unwise, as a rule, to suppress a cough, even if you know how to do so.
 On the contrary, a cough is a good habit to "lay off" when you feel a sneeze coming on, and devote yourself wholeheartedly to the business of sneezing. Make it snappy. The sneeze is an effort to expel something from the nasal cavity, perhaps something irritating and injurious, maybe even a newly lodged colony of disease germs. Very well, then, join courage with nature and try your luck. Only don't sneeze toward or upon anybody. Use your handkerchief as a sort of life net to catch whatever you may have expelled.
 But make a business of it and sneeze with vim. This applies in most cases.
 There are exceptional instances in which excessive sneezing occurs without any benefit to the sneezer, and in such cases it is as well to suppress the sneeze.

Cough is an effort to expel something from the throat, bronchial tubes or chest. If perchance you are coughing up phlegm, or mucus, or tonsils often cause a cough—you had better give up the attempt and have them removed by the doctor. If you have a fit of coughing you are entitled to rest or less coughing, but don't make a habit of it, don't cough just for the general effect or because it is coughing time or to try your strength. It is advisable for the patients to learn to resist the impulse to cough until it becomes really necessary to expectorate. This is one of the reasons why patients under good medical treatment, and in an important part of the real regime which is essential for recovery.

In acute pleurisy which is inflammation of the membrane that covers the lung and lines the chest wall—it is painful and harmful to cough and one simply should not do it. Here is when it is good to cough. In pleurisy suitable sedatives to dull the sensation and check the impulse to cough. Of course only a physician can safely administer these remedies.
 In the case of ordinary (lobar) pneumonia, which is sometimes called pleuro pneumonia, because there is nearly always some pleurisy, some inflammation of the lung lobes, the cough is both painful and useless, even harmful in effect, so that physicians often give a dose or two of some sedative to blunt the desire for coughing for a few hours. In the later stage of pneumonia cough and expectoration becomes free and should be encouraged, not checked.

What is the cause of these brilliant before eyes? These come at intervals of two or three days, then again not for several weeks. I had my eye fixed a short time ago, and I was told at the clinic at Rochester, Minn., that I have a wasted heart muscle. (Otherwise known as a laboratory, a good sleeper, though to be sure I am nervous. Could these brilliant come from my enervated heart? Mrs.
 M. D. J.)

Answer—Such flashes of gleaming light, shining before the eyes, are a common warning of a stroke of the a cerebral seizure. You're lucky enough to have noticed it, and to abortive form of migraine, perhaps the aura, without the headache and nausea. (Otherwise known as a laboratory, they are called, and so far as is known they are not due to any fault of vision.)

What do you think of vision (known as a laboratory) that is recommended by a laboratory? (Mrs. M. D. J.) Answer—I am trying to be serious for a while, so I can't think about it.
 Next, some laboratory will be recommending the cat's pajamas.

TODAY'S MARKET

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
 Chicago—Corn jumped up two cents a bushel in price at the opening today, owing largely to the lowest on record on a report from a leading authority that the July 1 condition of the crop was only 75 to 80 percent of normal. The sharp bulge in prices, which took place at the opening, however, led to heavy profit taking and prices, within an hour, were back to normal. Initial quotations ranged from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 up, with July 57 1/2 to 58 1/2.

Notwithstanding that all deliveries of corn today reached new high price records for the season, profit-taking based on the report from the lowest on record, the market later, the close was only 1/2 to 1 1/2 up, with July 57 1/2 to 58 1/2.

Wheat, as well as corn, was affected temporarily by a bullish report on the market, but later weather weakened sales and the market was inclined to drag. After opening 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 up, July 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 up, and Sept. 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 up, the market was inclined to drag, starting at 1/2 to 1 1/2 up, Sept. 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 up, and later showing losses all around.

Corn strength gave a little firmness to provisions.

RAINIER — the Mountain that is a National Park

Mt. Rainier is in itself a National Park — forests, rivers, wild-flowers, glaciers.

This jewel of America's National Parks is near Seattle and Tacoma. It has excellent and picturesque hotel accommodations; fine motor roads; mountain trails.

Visit Rainier this summer. The round-trip fare is only $84.10 via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul. Free side trip from Seattle-Tacoma to Ashford, the rail entrance, and return.

Our famous transcontinental train, "The Olympian," traverses 2,000 miles of scenic panorama on the way to Puget Sound, and through the mountains operates smoothly, swiftly, smokelessly, by electric power.

Descriptive booklets, reservations, tickets and full information on request.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINGLAH

JUST a bit of comment on the sportsman's life of the Southern Wisconsin baseball league. Cambridge has had a streak of misfortune in losing players this season, for one reason or another. Last week Cambridge against the Dane county outfit appeared for permission to use Fleming of Janesville. This man rightfully belonged to the Bonhofs of the league city, but the team were good enough to let Cambridge borrow him for the rest of the season, subject of course to recall in two weeks' notice. The addition helped Cambridge against Milton on Sunday. It is the plan of the league that its rules shall be flexible in order to promote good baseball. Indications now are that the league is fairly well balanced and close games should rule for the rest of the season. One of the most noticeable things about the circuit is the fine attitude of the fans in every city when rooting.

SMALLER entries than last year are being received at all harness matinees in the middle west. Stake races are too expensive for the horsemen this year, it is stated by those close to the horsemen. In many places, particularly in the middle west, it is said that the class races are proving the more popular this season. This is said to be true especially where there is added money making the class events as good as $750 stake events, without the heavier cost.

IF THE POLITICIANS and educators were asked what the greatest forces binding this country together, they might reply quite truly that our love of democracy and the administration felt for our national leaders were prominent forces in creating it. But splendid as these influences are, they are not the only common interests that tend to bind the country together. Something could be said as to the power of athletic sports to create community feeling. The crowd that gathers at a baseball game, for instance, is a really amazing demonstration of this spirit. The college professor and the man who can scarcely read a newspaper both find pleasure in watching this triumph of athletic skill. They may become friends while discussing the points of the game. Even the most fastidious and the most prejudiced may find something in common. People are sharply differentiated by their occupations, class distinctions and religious sects, but these differences are a great deal of harm. It is a mighty fine thing when all such differences are forgotten for an hour and people of all types run and cheer in common admiration of one thing.

DIAMOND SPARKLES

After weeks of inactivity, the volcanic batters of the Southern Wisconsin circuit entered a period of violent home run eruption. Jacques Bourcier, home run leader of the National league, made a brace of four baggers in the first inning of the game against the Hobins, won 7-5. They would lead the league by 5 1/2 games. The two homers increased Bourcier's total to 10, three better than the leader at Philadelphia. The Yankees, led by Hornum, also hitting a homer, fell heavily upon Moberg for the first time in the first game, but Hornum plucked the terror from their bats in the second, which the Athletics took, 10 to 3. The eighth homer of the season for Bourcier, the leading batter of the National league, was instrumental in the 7-5 verdict which ended a six game losing streak for the Cardinals and a seven game winning streak for the Yankees. Hornum by Juddett and Stengel accounted for three Boston runs in their 1-1 victory over the Phillies in the first game of the double header. The first game of the second, 6-4, when a single crumpled off Hubbell's leg into the hands of Catcher Henline, who tagged Juddett for third out in the bottom of the first. The Sox were again, slugged for the circuit in the Chicago 14-4 victory over Detroit in a hatless game. Both Faber and Storer were hit hard, but the Sox were more successful in launching their singles. There were no homers in the hard-fought double header which Boston and Washington divided. The Sox won 1-0, while the Yankees lost another contest away from the Giants following their 2-1 defeat by the Reds, who made four runs and two hits off Athletics in the bottom of the first. The Sox pitched fine ball. The St. Louis-Cleveland contest was stopped in the second inning by rain.

Richards, Washburn Eliminated at Wimbledon

YANK FIGHTS HARD WITH AUSTRALIAN; WILLS WINS AGAIN

BULLETIN
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
Wimbledon, Eng.—Vincent Richards, American tennis ace, Tuesday was eliminated from the men's singles of the Wimbledon lawn tennis tournament, losing to Jean Borotra of France, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

Wimbledon—Watson M. Washburn, of the United States, Tuesday was eliminated from the men's singles of the Wimbledon tennis tournament by Louis Raymond of Australia, 6-0; 7-5; 17-15.

Wimbledon—Miss Eleanor Goss and Mrs. Marion Z. Jessup, United States, defeated Miss P. Bonville and Mrs. E. J. Hill, 6-2; 2-6; 6-7, in doubles.

Washburn, who had a few weeks ago, toward the end of the match, he was in pain, often shouting about one leg. Washburn was so inaccurate in most of his shots that he was unable to strike off his opponent until the latter was nearly exhausted and tired. Even then the American could not place his shots consistently and ultimately lost the long last set.

Wimbledon, Eng.—Miss Helen Wills, the American woman champion, advanced to the tennis semi-finals here on Monday. She defeated Mrs. C. G. of England, having the contest well in hand from the beginning. Her score was 6-1, 6-0.

Miss Wills has now developed a fine game, particularly with regard to playing the net. Monday she had hardly to extend herself, so accurate was her racket work.

Only one competitor now stands between Miss Wills and her hoped for match with Miss Suzanne Lenglen, the world's woman title holder, who

After weeks of inactivity, the volcanic batters of the Southern Wisconsin circuit entered a period of violent home run eruption. Jacques Bourcier, home run leader of the National league, made a brace of four baggers in the first inning of the game against the Hobins, won 7-5. They would lead the league by 5 1/2 games. The two homers increased Bourcier's total to 10, three better than the leader at Philadelphia. The Yankees, led by Hornum, also hitting a homer, fell heavily upon Moberg for the first time in the first game, but Hornum plucked the terror from their bats in the second, which the Athletics took, 10 to 3. The eighth homer of the season for Bourcier, the leading batter of the National league, was instrumental in the 7-5 verdict which ended a six game losing streak for the Cardinals and a seven game winning streak for the Yankees. Hornum by Juddett and Stengel accounted for three Boston runs in their 1-1 victory over the Phillies in the first game of the double header. ## Fairies Lose to Simmons as Canton Increases Lead

Chasing the Flag

Kenosha—For the second time in three days, Norman Pitt hurled the Simmons to a win over Beloit Fairies here Monday. The score was 3 to 1. Saturday, Pitt also won a whole route, winning for Simmons, 5 to 2.

Monday he held the Fairies to three scratch hits until the eighth, when three singles warded off the White Sox. Chubb's grand play on Kolt's drive halting a rally.

Simmons scored on a double and advanced the third when Jackson doubled. Schindler singled to lead drive, a hard one to second in the sixth.

ACTIVITIES BEGIN AT PLAYGROUNDS

Two Leagues, Classes in Basketry, Among First Things Planned.

Playground activities for the summer are rapidly getting under way, and nearly all will be going by the end of this week. A schedule for mid-day and junior basketball leagues has been made out, and will start Wednesday, while first classes in basketry and mat-making will be on Tuesday afternoon.

Grounds will be open from 7 p. m. until dusk Monday and they will also be open on Wednesday and Friday nights as long as the weather permits. The evening hours are especially for the benefit of adults and unless a reasonable attendance is secured, they will be open only during the day. Fathers and mothers are urged to attend the night activities.

A water carnival for the morning of July 4 is being arranged, but details as to events have not been made. The playgrounds will be closed all day Friday.

Start Basketry Classes.
Miss Margaret Joyce, teacher of the opportunity room of the Webster school, instructed playground directors in the matter of mat and basket making at a meeting at the high school Saturday afternoon, and they will start classes at 2 p. m. Tuesday and will hold them weekly thereafter at that time. Both boys and girls are urged to enroll in them. Material will be furnished free.

A 40-game schedule has been arranged for the junior basketball league, and teams are open to any boy between the ages of 12 and 15 years. All games will be played at 10 a. m. and each team will meet each other four times, twice on its home grounds, and twice away. A banner will be awarded the champion team. It was won last year by the Douglas school.

A midday league, open to boys between 9 and 11 years, has also been arranged for, to play games at 3 p. m. Half as many games as in the junior league have been planned for, and competition will be for a banner. The points of championship teams will also count toward the general playground championship trophy.

Indoor playground or indoor basketball rules will be used by the league, and assistant directors at the various schools will umpire the games.

League Schedules Arranged.
The schedule arranged by Arthur Wheeler, city director, are as follows: Junior league—July 2, Jefferson at Adams; Douglas at Webster; July 5, Adams at Washington; Webster at Jefferson; July 7, Webster at Douglas; July 8, Jefferson at Washington; Douglas at Adams; July 11, Adams at Webster; Douglas at Jefferson; July 15, Washington at Adams; Jefferson at Douglas; July 17, Webster at Washington; Douglas at Jefferson; July 21, Jefferson at Webster; Washington at Douglas; July 23, Webster at Adams; Douglas at Jefferson; July 25, Adams at Washington; Webster at Jefferson; July 28, Washington at Webster; July 31, Adams at Jefferson; Washington at Douglas; August 2, Jefferson at Adams; Webster at Douglas; Aug. 4, Douglas at Webster; Aug. 5, Adams at Washington; Webster at Jefferson; Aug. 7, Washington at Webster; Aug. 8, Jefferson at Washington; Douglas at Adams; Aug. 11, Webster at Washington; Aug. 12, Adams at Webster; Douglas at Jefferson; Aug. 15, Webster at Adams; Aug. 15, Webster at Adams; Jefferson at Douglas; Aug. 18, Adams at Douglas; Washington at Jefferson; Aug. 20, Jefferson at Webster; Douglas at Adams; Douglas; Washington at Adams.

Milton Jct. M. E. Church Will Be Dedicated July 6
Milton Junction—Dedication services for the First Methodist Episcopal church of Milton Junction will be held Sunday, July 6. The principal speaker will be the Rev. Dr. William J. Davidson, president of Wesleyan university, Bloomington, Ill.

There will be two main services, at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Services in the surrounding localities will dispense with some of the services in order to attend the dedication services. Many visitors are expected from a distance.

Head of Nurses Is from Wisconsin
Madison—Wisconsin was recognized by election of an elected representative to high offices in the national nursing organizations at the close of the recent biennial convention at Detroit. Miss Adda Eldridge, director of the state bureau of nursing education, was re-elected president of the American Nurses' association for two years.

Miss Elizabeth G. Fox, Washington, D. C., formerly of Madison and Milwaukee, and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, was re-elected president of the National Organization for Public Health Nursing. Miss Muriel Kottman, Mt. Sinai hospital, Milwaukee, was elected treasurer of the National Association for Nursing Education.

Charge Delavan Man Beat Father
Delavan—As his father, Mark Welch, Delavan restaurant proprietor, lies here at the point of death after suffering from a blood clot on his brain, his son, Earl, a partner in the business, is in jail at Elkhorn, charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm. It is alleged that his father's condition results from a quarrel on June 20 or 21st, when the son administered a beating to his father.

The warrant was served after the complaint was sworn out by District Attorney Alfred Godfrey, who said Monday that Welch will be arraigned probably Tuesday.

Welch, the father, is out on $1,000 bail on a stay of execution from a sentence of $1,500 or jail for violation of the liquor laws. The supreme court recently sustained the court's sentence but the papers have not yet been returned. His son was arrested last year in connection with liquor violation but released.

Opening Guns of Campaign to Be Fired July 4

Madison—Opening shots in the forthcoming political campaign will be fired this week, according to campaign managers here. New developments in the contest are expected before the close of the week.

Of some importance is declared to be the announcement of Dwight S. Welch, Harbison, of his candidacy for re-election to the state assembly from Sauk county, with the support of Governor Blaine. Welch is a member of the state highway commission and is one of the two members whom Governor Blaine has threatened to remove for failure to support his program of retrenchment. A delegation of Harbison citizens conferred with Governor Blaine on the matter last week. It is stated.

Governor Blaine has opened Milwaukee headquarters for his coming campaign, with William Hannan, Milwaukee, brother of John Hannan, secretary of the state board of agriculture, in charge. It is stated. The governor is expected to open his campaign the latter part of the week. A. R. Hirst, former state highway engineer, will open his drive for governor on July 4, at Waterville. He will not go into campaign issues to any extent on that day, he declares. George Commins, lieutenant governor, probably will not be in action to any extent during the coming week, but will spend his time in Madison headquarters.

FIRST OF NEW PAVING IS OPEN

Six Blocks on Pleasant Street Being Used—$13,000 in Bonds to Be Issued.

A six block stretch of the new reinforced concrete paving on Pleasant street has been opened to travel, but the entire strip of eight blocks cannot be put into service until the Five Points crossing is improved. The half mile section opened presents one of the smoothest pieces of pavement ever laid in Janesville, and city officials are well pleased with the job. The first of the $375,000 program for 1924 to be completed and opened to traffic.

The section now being traversed by cars runs from Terrace street west to Oak Hill avenue, where it connects with the county paving on route 20 west to Footville. Most of the dirt has been scraped off the surface and the remainder will be removed with the city's old horse drawn sweeping machine.

Prepare Bond Issue.
To reach the Pleasant street pavement it is necessary on account of the Five Points crossing being closed and also Laurel avenue at North Pearl street, to go north to Ravine street, then south on Terrace street three blocks. A two-block section of Washington street, from Pleasant street north, has been completed but has not yet been opened.

With the finishing of these two jobs, City Manager Traxler and City Clerk-Treasurer A. J. Olsen are now signing $12 per cent special improvement bonds to the amount of $12,750.00, bearing date of July 1 and payable serially over a period of 10 years. The balance of the cost of the two jobs will be paid by the property owners in cash upon the presentation of the paving certificate to be issued when the committee of public works and the council formally accept the work.

The total amount of new paving on Pleasant street, including the islands at the Five Points crossing, is figured at 9,242 square yards.

Rush Pearl Street Paving.
One of the biggest day's runs since the beginning of operations, was made by the paving gang on North Pearl street Monday, the start of rain at 2:30 o'clock finding the east half of the street paved almost as far south as Laurel avenue. Work had been started in the morning at a point 139 feet north of Ravine street.

Because Ravine street is the only through street in the first ward now it was necessary to jump this intersection in paving Pearl street. After this stretch will be paved later, after the two blocks on Mineral Point avenue from Washington to Pearl are paved and made ready for a new detour.

The paving forces are unable to get onto Mineral Point avenue because of a stretch of sewer being laid across the intersection with Terrace street. An 11-foot cut, most of it through solid rock which requires blasting, is making this job a tedious one.

Expects Second Mixer.
R. R. Birdsall, Stacine, head of the paving concern, announced Monday that he will not be able to put his second mixer on the local project for at least two and one-half weeks more. He had hoped to have it here by July 1 but bad weather has delayed it on the job at Genoa Junction and he has been able to lay only 1,200 feet there so far. This work is part of a 1923 contract.

Mr. Birdsall may rent a paved from a local contracting concern if unfavorable weather continues to tie his own machine at Genoa.

The city workers engaged in laying sewer and water laterals have torn up one-half of Milton avenue, and another crew is laying an eight inch water main along the Milwaukee avenue from Garfield avenue to Harrison street. A two-inch main is being removed there.

APARTMENT HOUSE RULING IN EFFECT

All large apartment buildings will after Tuesday need to be equipped with smoke and fire escapes according to a recent order of the postoffice department, taking effect on July 1. So far as known by the local postoffice, no present buildings in Janesville will come under the regulation, but six-apartment flats will hereafter be asked to install the system at the time of building. The regulations consist of individual boxes for each tenant, with lock and key, placed in one group, and the entire lot being accessible to the mail carrier by a large door, to which he carried the master key.

SCARIFY STREETS TO PREPARE FOR OILING

Portions of several streets are being scarified and rolled by the city's steam roller preparatory to oiling as soon as the weather permits. A carload of oil is now on hand in the city's tanks, left over from 1923, and as soon as this is utilized another carload will be ordered.

Sections of streets which have been scarified and rolled are Wall, Linn, School, North First, East, Glen and Wisconsin, Pense court and Prospect avenue.
